I have owned a 2005 Ninja 636 (ZX-6R) for over a decade. I have not ridden it for the past four years and four years ago I started disassembly of the front master cylinder. Why? Because I had done a track day and I totally ignored the brake fluid. When I finally realized that the brake fluid needs to be changed, it was solidifying. I was out yesterday on my 636 and after about 6 stoppies in a row I noticed that I had no oil in my res. what type of brake fluid should I go with? Google search ...
