Bud rot (also known as gray mold or botrytis) is one of the most devastating fungal diseases to hit marijuana crops. It thrives in cool temperate climates where a high level of humidity is present. It is so harmful to your plants that it could destroy your whole garden of marijuana plants in less ...It's been a long, cold winter and your garden beds are looking pretty empty. But the good news is that spring is right around the corner. It's just about time to dust off those gardening boots, gloves, and tools, and get ready to start your seeds in the backyard or greenhouse. The Garden classroom stays open year-round and hosts an array of programs led by experts who draw inspiration from our plant collections and the desert environment. Not all fruit trees need fertilizer every year and they don't need it in the same amounts. This can change from year to year depending on a variety of factors, so be sure to measure annually. What will happen if the incorrect amount of fertilizer is given? Too much fertilizer will lead to lots of ...
